

Name : Precious Agatha

Age : 5 years old

Gender : Female

Grade : Play Group

Background:

Precious Agatha was born into poverty in one of the sprawling slums on the outskirts of Nairobi City, in Kenya. Her parents can barely afford to give her the life that she deserves

Living Conditions: Agatha's family lives in a cramped one-room shanty made of corrugated metal and iron-sheets. The slum is overcrowded, with narrow alleys filled with garbage and open drains. Basic amenities like clean water and sanitation are scarce, and electricity is often stolen through makeshift connections.

Education: Despite her circumstances, Agatha attends a non government-run school located near the slum. This is because Government run schools classrooms are overcrowded, there's a shortage of teachers, and resources like books and stationery are limited. Agatha dreams of becoming a doctor one day

Challenges: Her Parents are currently not employed and they depend on odd jobs in order to provide for the family and Agathas siblings

Precious Agatha represents the millions of children growing up in similar conditions worldwide, where poverty and hardship overshadow their potential but where hope and determination continue to drive them forward.

My name is Giana Mary . A 3rd born in a family of 5 children, I come from Korogocho slum one .
we live all of us in one house which makes things hard especially when I want to read,

I have problem in learning because I come from a very poor family, most of the time I am out of school because my mother and father mostly look for money for food and not for our education and even most of the times when I go to school I stay hungry because my parents cant afford to pay lunch money in school.

I like going to school because there I get free food to eat
